Ambienta is designated for SFDR Article 9 products

Ambienta SGR SpA ("Ambienta" or "the Company"), the leading sustainability-focused European asset manager, is pleased to announce that it is designated for SFDR Article 9 products within the EU Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR), which has gone into effect March 10th.

The SFDR intends to increase the transparency of sustainability risks and opportunities in investment decisions. Article 9 investment products are specifically aimed at achieving a sustainability goal. The SFDR is derived from the Sustainable Finance Action Plan (SFAP), which encourages sustainable investments in the EU as a means to achieve the Paris Agreement climate goals and the European Green Deal.

Ambienta's mission to provide sustainability-driven investments both through Ambienta X, its public markets division which targets institutional and private investors, and its private equity arm, aligns strategically with the SFDR. Additionally, Ambienta's proprietary ESG in Action Programme, which is implemented throughout the firm and its asset classes, is a further testament of how sustainability is at the core of Ambienta's work since its founding in 2007.

Nino Tronchetti Provera, Founding and Managing Partner of Ambienta, said: "We have successfully invested in companies which are providing solutions to environmental issues for more than a decade, based on the belief that environmental sustainability is a powerful driver of value. We are naturally aligned to the EU's long-term objectives."

Fabio Raghino, Head of Sustainability and Strategy, added: "We welcome the EU's long-term commitment to sustainability and transparency. It is critical for investors and citizens to be able to distinguish between marketing claims and true sustainability. Ambienta is committed to this transition towards transparency and will continue to develop innovative Article 9-aligned financial products."
